Election Process

OSHA will be adopting an election process in order to have a formal procedure in place that will allow members to nominate members for positions and then elect them in a secret ballot vote.

1. An election committee of 2 Board members not up for election will be set up.
2. A month before the AGM, nominations will be accepted in writing or by email, until 2 weeks before the meeting.
3. The election committee will contact nominees to see if they will stand for election.
4. One week before the election, a list of nominees standing for election will be distributed to the Board members.
5. At the AGM, prior to the election process, nominated persons will be given a few minutes to provide some information on themselves and their objectives.
6. Voting will be by secret ballot, handed out to each member club in good standing. Proxies will be accepted by the election committee from member clubs that are unable to attend.
7. The election committee counts the ballots and announces the winners.
8. A member of the election committee presents a motion to destroy the ballots.
9. The election process is completed when the ballots are destroyed.
